Bloom's taxonomy is a set of three hierarchical models used to classify educational learning objectives into levels of complexity and specificity. The three lists cover the learning objectives in cognitive, affective and sensory domains. The cognitive domain list has been the primary focus of most traditional education and is frequently used to structure curriculum learning objectives ...

This established the first strong link between early cognitive development and the functions of a specific brain region. That gave encouragement to others that rigorous experimental work addressing brain-behavior relations was possible in infants. It also fundamentally altered the scientific understanding of PFC early in development; clearly it was not silent as accepted wisdom had held.

Hi Cortney, Thank you for your kind comments! Greatly appreciated! I have a chapter on social anxiety in my Feeling Good Handbook. I also wrote a book on shyness and related topics called Intimate Connections. Finally, my book on anxiety, When Panic Attacks, might also be useful! If you try one of these resources, let me know if it is helpful, hopefully to the same extent as the way you defeated ...
